

FROM THE DESK OF THE PRESIDENT

4800 SIX FORKS ROAD, SUITE 220
RALEIGH, NC 27609

August 28, 2019

The John Locke Foundation invites a variety of speakers to make presentations on issues of public interest. JLF does not necessarily endorse every claim made by a speaker at a JLF event, or even the broad theme of a given presentation. Similarly, JLF scholars and analysts sometimes use blog posts or other means to point readers to articles of interest, without necessarily endorsing all points or arguments made in those articles.

As to the issue of climate change itself, JLF scholars and analysts do not dispute the existence of a relationship between concentrations of greenhouse gases and global temperature trends over time. There remains significant room for scientific inquiry and debate about the magnitude of the effect and of the net consequences, the pace at which those consequences are manifesting themselves, and the costs and benefits of proposed remedies such as carbon taxes, emission regulations, and renewable-energy mandates or subsidies. We will continue to debate vigorously these important matters and to examine multiple sources and perspectives as we do so.

Sincerely,
